

Chautauqua Lecture Series
2009-2010 Season

"Tales from Our Genome"

Dr. Hunt Willard, Professor of Genome Sciences and Policy
Aycock (2/9/10)

"What Does Your Dance Say About You? Dance as Intangible Cultural Heritage"

Ava Vinesett, Asst. Professor of Dance
Pegram (2/23/10)

"Expressing identify through nanoelectronics research: my career in controlling, understanding, and finally accepting electrons"

Dr. April Brown, Professor of Electrical and Computer Engineering
Southgate (3/2/10)

"Democracy is Overrated"

Dr. Michael Munger, Professor and Chair of Political Science
Giles (9/8/09)

"The Inclination Towards Improvisation: A Musician Discusses Why Spontaneity Matters in Your Media and Culture"

Dr. Anthony Kelley, Assoc. Professor of Music S
Southgate (9/14/09)

"What Lemurs Can Tell Us about Earth's Past, Present, and Future"

Dr. Anne Yoder, Director of Duke's Lemur Center
Gilbert-Addoms (9/29/09)

"Hardship of Life: Japanese Youth in an Era of Precariousness"

Dr. Anne Allison, Professor of Cultural Anthropology
Wilson (10/8/09)

"Predictably Irrational"

Dr. Dan Ariely, James B. Duke Professor of Behavioral Economics
Bassett (10/12/09).

"Prophets in America"

Dr. Richard Brodhead, Professor of English
Randolph (10/26/09)